

I chose Gundersen Lutheran... to help me beat breast cancer

"I had just turned 42 when the doctors at Gundersen Lutheran found something suspicious on my screening mammogram. It was breast cancer. I couldn't believe it.

So many thoughts went through my mind. 'I'm too young to be dealing with breast cancer. What's chemo like? What's radiation?'

Fortunately, from the instant I got my diagnosis I had a team from Gundersen Lutheran's Norma J. Vinger Center for Breast Care standing beside me to guide me on my journey. I wasn't just a patient to them. I was a person and my thoughts and feelings and fears mattered. I was part of their team.

I knew I was in good hands and everything would be ok. Gundersen Lutheran helped me beat breast cancer, and the care I received was second to none. I'm lucky Gundersen Lutheran was here for me."
